

The word "Webmaster" is rendered in a 3D, blocky font. The letters are dark red on top and transition to a bright yellow at the bottom. The text is slanted upwards from left to right and has a slight shadow effect.

I designed, wrote, published and maintain my own website.so . . . OK . . . maybe that doesn't make me a webmaster, but I know enough about it to get this far.

If I can help you get your website up and running just let me know.
